The use of thermodynamics in biology has a long history rich in confusion. â€” Harold J. Morowitz Sometimes people say that life violates the second law of thermodynamics.

Eubacterial community structures in the plant rhizosphere were examined with respect to plant species, soil type, and root zone location. Three plant species (chickpea, rape and Sudan grass) were grown in intact cores of three California soils (a sandy soil, a sandy loam, and a clay) and were provided with a complete fertilizer solution with or without nitrogen supplied as ammonium nitrate.

Human evolution is the evolutionary process that led to the emergence of anatomically modern humans, beginning with the evolutionary history of primates â€” in particular genus Homo â€” and leading to the emergence of Homo sapiens as a distinct species of the hominid family, the great apes. This process involved the gradual development of traits such as human bipedalism and language, as well as ...

Thrombin (EC 3.4.21.5, fibrinogenase, thrombase, thrombofort, topical, thrombin-C, tropostasin, activated blood-coagulation factor II, blood-coagulation factor IIa, factor IIa, E thrombin, beta-thrombin, gamma-thrombin) is a serine protease, an enzyme that, in humans, is encoded by the F2 gene. Prothrombin (coagulation factor II) is proteolytically cleaved to form thrombin in the clotting process.

Jacob et al. differentiate human pluripotent stem cells (PSCs) into type II alveolar cells (iAEC2s). They find that iAEC2s display many of the functions, transcriptomic features, and surfactant-processing capacities that characterize primary cells. Finally, they derive AEC2s from gene-edited, patient-specific PSCs to model surfactant protein B deficiency in vitro.

Here is an evolutionist with experience in molecular biology, Francois Jacob. Francois Jacob won the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine in 1965, along with two others, for discoveries concerning genetic control of enzyme and virus synthesis.

The particular focus of How Children Succeed was the role that a group of factors often referred to as noncognitive or “soft” skills—qualities like perseverance, conscientiousness, self-control, and optimism—play in the challenges poor children face and the strategies that might help them succeed. These qualities, which are also sometimes called character strengths, have in recent ...

1. Introduction. Compared with the profound spontaneous restoration of lost tissues and organs in lower vertebrates [, ,], mammals show limited regeneration after injury and damaged tissues are often replaced by morphologically and functionally debilitating scars []. To promote regeneration, attempts have been made by transplantation of stem cells, organoids or bioartificial organs [, ,], yet ...
